BBB A Big Help

Chamber Of Commerce Diligence Has Served Our City Many Ways

Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce became a wider scope of service. Only recently, the chamber processed a complaint from a local firm which called for the investigation of a Miami Beach-based operation. The investigation which began at Belle Glade may eventually result in criminal action against the operation.

In this week's "Chamber Chatter," a publication of the chamber, Price says, "In our Chamber of Commerce during the past year we have often times warned you all about stick salesmen, fast deals, the high pressure boys and others."

"Yet with all our warnings, some of our friends have been taken for a ride financially. Our Better Business Division is trying to help. But if you would call before you get stung, we might be able to help you through our files or other information we might have."

Repeatedly the chamber has investigated various business operations, particularly the itinerant salesman, and discovered irregularities in business schemes. Its affiliation with the national BBB has given the

Produce Market Somewhat Slower

Demand was slow and market conditions were generally lower during the past week on fresh vegetables and the shipments continue to show a wide gap compared to a similar week a year ago.

Total shipments by truck and rail total 4,228 as of Wednesday morning a drop from the 6,173 for the same time last year.

Celery, the volume leader of the produce, showed the best demand with the market generally $2.50 on 3s and larger sizes and $1.50 on 4s and smaller.

There was a wide range of quality to the beans and the market was dull. Corn saw a better movement but lower prices.

Rail shipments along were six cars lighter for the week than the previous week and shipments are 964 cars behind a comparable week last year.

Christmas Orderly For Post Office As Patrons Help

"In behalf of the Post Office Department, said George P. Farnall, Belle Glade Postmaster, let me thank all our patrons for the orderly movement of mail this year during the Christmas season in comparison to previous years. Instead of missing all the mail here on just a few days, most patrons took advantage of our 'mail early' slogan and did mail early."

"Don't misunderstand me," he continued, "we had plenty to do at all times, but the load was evenly distributed between days. We had no delayed mails either outgoing or incoming and by Christmas morning, we could truly say that all the Christmas mails were safely 'at home.'"

Farnall noted that cancellations this year for the period Dec. 13 through Christmas Eve exceeded last year's for the same period by 1,919 pieces.

The total cancellations for this year were 92,310 for that period of time. There were 307 sacks of parcel post sent out this year in comparison to 261.

Glades Market Has Unique Year

This year 1959 was unique for Glades Livestock Market for at least two reasons in that both the largest and smallest sales since 1952 both occurred within eight months of each other.

Total number of cattle sold during the year was 31,897 and the gross receipts for them amounted to $3,921,206.49. There were 11 sales with receipts over $100,000.

The largest sale of the year was May 18 when 1,021 cattle netted $143,430.65. Smallest sale of the year was Dec. 28 when 129 cattle returned $15,750. The largest number of cat-

Our City Made Progress During 1959 And Looks For More Advances In '60

This year, 1959, was a year when the dogs got out of the city dump and the city got in the air about mosquitoes, and in each instance, these events were moves for the betterment of the city. This week City Manager Cleveland B. Talmadge sketched some of the major municipal accomplishments of 1959 and looked forward into 1960 with a note of optimism with regard to better things to come.

Building new dog pound facilities in a fresh-air surroundings at the sewage treatment plant and using aerial dusting to combat a plague of pesky mosquitoes were comparatively insignificant accomplishments for the city in 1959.

Talmadge said the completion of the sanitary sewerage systems 12 and 14 and the construction of the treatment plant ranked as the major step for the departing year. He listed the second most important accomplishment as the acquisition of an accounting machine which was the first step to put the city's finances under what's known as controlled accounting.

The computation of tax payments now, and later the pay roll work and then purchasing puts the city's accounting on a modern basis with a monthly financial statement available.

With the machine, there is less chance of error; the efficiency is increased. The machine isn't expected to cut down the personnel, he said.

Other major steps in 1959 include an end to the nine-year struggle to widen and pave S. E. Ave. from Main to list St., additional residential lighting (more coming in 1960), the opening of the city's new and larger library, the change to parallel parking on W. Ave. A, and adoption of revised rules and regulations for civil service employees.

During 1959 the water department laid more lines than had ever been laid in a year's time. For the first time in state history, a state institution connected to a municipal project when contracts were signed for Glades State Prison farm to connect its sanitary sewerage system to Belle Glade's system at Chosen bridge.

Scheduled to start Jan. 4 is a program to replace sidewalks, curbs and gutter work on W. Ave. A from Main St. to S. W. 4th St. The city hopes to obtain a Director of Public Works to fill the position created in (Continued On Page Eight)

Ozone Generator City Installs Odor Control Unit At Lift Station One For Trial

Belle Glade Commissioners heard Dec. 23 that an ozone generator had been installed on a 30-day trial basis at Lift Station One at N. W. 14th and Ave. E. For the purpose of combating odors from the station.

City Manager C. B. Talmadge reported the action and said that the generator could be purchased for $900 to operate permanently at the site if it proved effective. The generator had the approval of consulting engineers, and ozone generators have been used successfully by several cities in Florida and Virginia.

Talmadge also reported that specifications were ready for bids on the new public works radio frequency. The council authorized additional expenditures from the Water Department and General Fund in addition to $1,600 already budgeted for a total of $5,800.50 to cover expenses involved in adjusting the police-public works radio network. Bids will be advertised in January.

In other action the council: Agreed to allow the Post Office Department to anchor their mail collection boxes in concrete on the request of Postmaster George P. Farnall. The move was made in compliance with requests from higher postal authorities.

Heard that all water lines and sewer lines on S. Ave. E. had been completed and that only small amount of work remained to complete the project. Learned that streets in the southwest section which were patched with asphalt are ready for final work in January, 1960.

Heard that barricades have been constructed and installed at the foot of streets abutting the canal.

Teen Dance January 2

Most Start Year With Special Rite

Not everyone celebrates the beginning of the New Year on January 1. But people in all parts of the world have special customs to insure that the New Year will get off to a good start.

Church services and festive parties, for example, are typical ways of celebrating in the U. S.

In many European countries, gifts are exchanged on New Year's Day. The custom originated with the Romans, according to World Book Encyclopedia. Back in 747 B. C., reportedly, they presented the king of the Sphines with branches of bay and palm trees consecrated to Sthenia, the goddess of strength. The "Sthenia," or gifts, became known as kharosmas, the precursor of royal favor, and the emperors came to regard them as deserved tribute.

Augustus Caesar is said to have passed the word along that he had a vision in which he saw himself receiving gifts from the Senate and the people on January 1.

Claudius finally stopped the influence-peddling by limiting the cost of gifts.

Henry III introduced the custom into England in the 1200's, and Elizabeth I collected enough loot to replenish her wardrobe for a year. The custom went out with Oliver Cromwell.

In Scotland, bad luck is in store for a family if the first person to set foot in the house on New Year's Day is a woman... or a greivender... or a person who walks with his toes turned in... or a man with red or blonde hair.

To minimize the risk, the Scots appoint a tall, dark man as the "first-footer." On New Year's Day he enters each house in silence, places a bundle of fags on the fire, then wishes the family good luck.

Even the poorest Chinese buy new shoes for the holiday, because it is bad luck to step down on the ground into old shoes on New Year's Day. And the Portuguese ignore their debts, because the man who pays a bill on this day will pay out money all year.

The Brazilians open the New Year by expressing the hope of all men... they designate January 1 as the Day of Universal Brotherhood.

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

A Pitch for Snacks

It takes a skillful pitcher to throw three balls across the plate for a strike out, whether he be major, minor, or little leaguer. In the kitchen league, you make a pitch for a similar feat when you limit yourself to three meals a day.

Because many of us are not all into good meal-planning strategy, three meals may not be enough to strike out the desire for food and most of us are not all into good meal-planning strategy. Hence, the wisdom of the well-planned coffee break or the television dinner... the snack that satisfies and carries the points of essential nutrients. As long as you balance the amount of food you eat with the amount of energy you expend, snacking is good nutrition strategy.

That a four- or five-meal day can result in saving more of the essential foods in the home is a Monday University study. When preschool children ate a mid-morning snack, they were able to increase their intake of nutrients.

Preschoolers, little learners, and seniors alike have a double-header need for food to meet the demands of growth and activity. Adults, too, need snacks for replenishing energy stores. Well-planned snacks fill these needs.

For Overnight Parking

At the last meeting of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, it was agreed to ask the City of Belle Glade to put up adequate signs explaining the overnight parking regulations of the city.

They will further seek to inform hotel and motel managers to advise their guests of all current regulations regarding the parking of vehicles on city streets overnight.

Parking is prohibited during certain early morning hours on most streets in order that the street sweeper can make its rounds unobstructed. Cars left in the path of the sweeper during operation hours are tagged by the police.

Maynor's Marvelous Men Mauled

Galloping Gals Gather Goofy Goals

The All-American Red Heads professional girls' basketball team invaded Belle Glade Saturday night and won their encounter 66-52 means of some chicanery and rule book editing all in fun.

A sparse crowd appeared well-pleased as Maynor's Minute Men and the galloping gals played four quarters of coordinated play for the benefit of the school's athletic fund.

Aside from the fact that some apparent pre-game planning took place, and the fact that Coach Jim Maynor was hospitalized prior to the game (not because of it, it could have been closer).

W. S. C. S. Will Meet January 5 At 8 P. M.

The Star Circle will be in charge of the program of the general meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Community Methodist Church Tuesday, Jan. 5, at 8 p. m. The program topic will be "The Golden Cord of Service."

Churches Of Christ Scientist

The thought that acknowledged of one, infinite God, and obedience to his commands, is essential for the spiritualization and salvation of mankind, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "God." The Golden Text is from Deuteronomy (10:12, 13).

"And now, Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul, to keep the commandments of the Lord, and his statutes, which I command thee this day for thy good?"

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (228:25-27):

"There is no power apart from God. Omnipotence has all-power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God."

We can do more good by being good than in any other way.

Jehovah Witnesses

Convention Jan. 1-3

James C. Zee, presiding minister of the Belle Glade congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced today that the regular semi-annual convention of Florida Circuit No. 6, will be held January 1-3, 1960 at Terry Park in Fort Myers.

The meeting is expected to draw approximately 1200 delegates from 20 congregations in Central and Southeast Florida. The Belle Glade group will be represented by 25 or more delegates according to present plans.

"At this season of the year," Zee said, "it will be a happy occasion to gather together to give honor and praise to Almighty God and his Son, Jesus Christ. For it is our acceptance of this man, Jesus, who gave his life for the sinful world, that makes our hope of everlasting life so strong," he added.

Jehovah's Witnesses believe and are desirous of teaching others that it will be during this generation, that the "Prince of Peace" will fulfill the Bible text now on the lips of millions: "And upon earth peace among men of good-will." Luke 2:14.

"Such a peace on earth cannot come through any group or organization of men, but will be brought about by God's Kingdom, the only hope for mankind," Zee said.

This belief has brought many comments from other religious groups who do not believe God's government will come to this earth. But Jehovah's Witnesses continue to pray, "Let your Kingdom come. Let your will be done on earth as it is in heaven." Matthew 6:10.

"The failure on the part of religion and the United Nations to bring peace to the troubled people of the world, has stirred multitudes to open their Bibles at home. There they read all of us we would hear Jesus say, 'Come, ye blessed of my Father. Can you name the speaker and bring forth the words of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it?'"

"2. 'Look not behind thee, neither shalt thou in all the land.'" Zee said.

"3. 'Thou shalt not kill.'" Zee said.

"4. 'Curse God, and die.'" Zee said.

"5. 'Set thine house in order for thou shalt die and not live.'" Zee said.

"6. 'Thou art weighed in the balance and found wanting.'" Zee said.

"7. 'Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.'" Zee said.

"8. 'Swear not at all.'" Zee said.

Spiritual causation is the one question to be considered, for more than all other spiritual causation relates to human beings.

Corn Quarantine Imposed By Texas

The discovery of one larva of the European corn borer has caused Texas to impose quarantine on host plants and materials originating in most other states. The action aligns Texas with a half dozen states and two Canadian provinces in banning this particular pest.

Although this borer is not found in Florida, the state of quarantine is listed as a quarantined area, and all corn, broomcorn, sorghum and sugarcane plants, products and parts must be certified when they are consigned to points in Texas. This has been routine in the past for like commodities destined for Arizona, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah and Washington and the provinces of Alberta and British Columbia in Canada.

The quarantine affects seed and shelled grain, and stalks, ears, cobs and all other parts of corn, broomcorn, sorghum and sugarcane.

Each shipment or lot of these commodities grown in Florida and shipped to Texas or any other state maintaining a quarantine against the European corn borer must be accompanied by an official certificate of the State Plant Board of Florida. This certificate must affirm that the products were grown in this state and were handled in such manner as to prevent contamination with other such products from a infested area.

Products not properly certified will be refused entry, destroyed or delivery delayed pending receipt of a certificate.

The 1959-60 budget year Talmadge said the pay schedule and job classification work started this year for city employees by Florida State University would be finished next year.

Another major step will be the installation of culvert on S. W. 8th St., from Avenue A to S. W. Ave. B Place. The ditch will then be covered and the street will become three-laned. The project will proceed two blocks each year until completely finished.

These improvements and advances, coupled with the state's work on South Avenue E are favorable to municipal advancement. It's been a good year.

"You mean no one wants to operate a saloon at the airport—Glorry Be!"

You would think that in a country like ours, with the finest dental know-how in the world, dental health wouldn't be much of a problem. Unfortunately, the opposite is all too true.

According to statistics released in February by the American Dental Association in connection with Children's Dental Health Week, dental disease is the nation's most common health problem. The record reveals that almost 22,000,000 persons have lost all of their teeth—not to count many millions more with only a few teeth left to call their own.

Dental scientists point out that nature has designed man's teeth to last a lifetime. Except for some unusual cases, there is no reason why our teeth shouldn't last that long. The answer may be found among some startling facts uncovered by the recent U. S. National Health Survey.

Although most Americans readily agree they should visit their dentist regularly, two out of three persons actually haven't sat down in a dentist's chair for three years. Regular brushing is recommended as the best safeguard against decay, but only one out of four brushes their teeth regularly and 65% not at all.

No wonder dental authorities have long wished for a dentifrice that, in addition to doing the job of a toothbrush, would also protect the teeth. This novel product sports a bright, colorful, sticky strip that takes daily tooth care out of the mouth and makes it a pleasure. It's also the first dentifrice to contain germ-killing hexachlorethene which makes any

Rogers Closes His District Office

After traveling approximately 5,000 miles and making 75 scheduled talks in addition to many TV and radio appearances and informal talks to various groups, Congressman Paul Rogers announced last week that his district office was closed, and that he would return to the second session of the 86th Congress on Jan. 6.

Rogers asked that all future inquiries be addressed to him at his Washington, D. C. office, Room 111, House Office Building.

Representative Rogers has received several hundred visitors in his West Palm Beach office, which has been maintained for the convenience of individuals wishing to meet with him on matters concerning the federal government and the Sixth District of Florida.

Although he will be on vacation until just prior to the opening of Congress, the office will be open to furnish assistance or information to citizens of the district.
